THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS

VOL. IX. THE MIDDLEBURY CAMPUS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1913. No. 14.

MIDD. DEFATED BY U.V.M.

Was It a Walk-away? Read This Article and See.

The football season opened very auspiciously on Wednesday when the varsity railed to Burlington and gave Vermont the game of their lives—a game which was neither team's game until the last minute when Whalen, the big tackle, kicked a goal from placement, winning for Vermont by the score 10—7.

Vermont won the toss and the game was off, Triggs receiving the kick-off for Midd on the 10-yard line and in running it back was slightly injured, Kron taking his place. After a few tries at the line Condit punted out of danger. Vermont retaliated by punting back on the next play, Cronk receiving. For the rest of the quarter a punting duel was indulged in by Condit for Midd and Whalen for Vermont, with "Phil" getting off longer and higher drives. The quarter ended with the ball in midfield. Triggs re-entered the game at the beginning of the second quarter. Midd constantly tried the Vermont line, but every time a green-clad warrior turned them back and gradually Vermont approached the blue and white goal line until Farr broke through on the Midd 10-yard line and blocked Condit's attempt to punt. In the scramble for the ball Farr was successful and ambled over the line for a fluke touchdown, Whalen kicking the goal. The remainder of the half was an exchange of punts.

Coach Bergen was busy during the intermission gathering together his scattered pigskin warriors and after a severe reprimand Midd began the second half to show their tutor the spirit of Ethan Allen. Midd by some strange chance again received the kick-off at the south goal, again a see-saw began; it was now the Vermont and now the Middlebury ball. Forward passes for both sides went astray, end runs were spilled, delays were broken up and no gains could be acquired by either side. Again the punting duel began, during which Cronk came to grief on an end run with a badly dislocated ankle, Lamere taking his place. The quarter ended with the ball in midfield. Play resumed with added vigor on the side of the blue and white. The old do or die spirit began to assert itselt, but the advantage of ten pounds to the man in the Vermont line was too much. Midd could not penetrate the stonewall defense. With the ball near midfield, Kron, on secondary defense, picked off a Vermont forward pass and with splendid interference made a spectacular run of 60 yards for a touchdown to the great dismay of the well-filled bleachers. Then came the task of kick-ick a goal to tie the score, but Jones was equal to the occasion, and over went the oval. Middlebury 7, Vermont 7 said the score board and the game a tie. Vermont chose to receive the kick off and a well interfered run brought the ball back to midfield. Ver-

First Dance of the Season.

The first dance of the college year was held at the McCullough Gymnasium last Saturday evening from eight until ten o'clock. It was an informal affair and was very well attended by the student body. An introduction committee, made up of students from the three upper classes whose duty it was to make the evening enjoyable for everyone, succeeded in doing so according to all reports. Splendid music was furnished by the college orchestra. The patronesses were Dean Throop, Mrs. Burrage, Mrs, Voter and Mrs. Swett.

Band Rehearsal.

On October 1st the band gathered for a rehearsal at the Music Hall and put in some good practice. Several of the men were absent for the U. V. M. game came off on the same date but the rest made up in vim for the smallness of their number. Professor Royce showed them many good points which will be of good use in putting our opponent's bands to shame whem the teams meet on diamond or gridiron.

Harry Hyde of Worcester, Mass., and Charles Seltzer of New Britain, Conn., have entered college.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING.

On Saturday, the 4th, immediately after one of the forenoon recitations, the freshman class gathered together their qualified voters and proceeded to elect a bunch of officers worthy of the wearing of the green. Of course this weighty procedure was somewhat of a task but our young friends went at it bravely, With varying bursts of oratory and logical demonstrations as to the virtues and abilities of the several candidates, the following men were put forward as the best possible helmsmen that could be chosen for 1917: Searle, Hard, Vaughn and Reynolds. It was a good race for first place, Searle winning and taking his place as class choice. Now for the vice-president. This is another officer in whose choice much due thought must be taken but 1917 always proved a thoughtful conglomoration and it didn't take long to choose Miss Helen Simms as a worthy bearer of the vice-presidential banner. Miss Huldah Thomas won the cares of the secretaryship and Lee w s elected treasurer. Now the class of 1917 has taken her place among the duly organized classes of Middlebury college and we hope that her course during this year and the years to come will be highly successful.

Starr-Painter Football Game.

On Saturday, October 4th, the two dormitories attempted to settle a few points in the long standing dispute as to which possessed the greater athletic prowess. This question has often been fought over before but never definitely proved and I can't say that this contest will help much in that direction. However that may be, the game was a pippin while it lasted. No ancient and decrepit veterans of former football fields were allowed to play for this was the day on which the amateur was expected to run riot. Starr had the greater number of would-be heroes to choose from and so presented the most imposing array but Painter tried to make up in quality. After some skirmishing in the center of the field the brute force of the Starr aggregation began to tell on the skill of Painter generalship and the latter began a slow retreat down the field. Brickett went over for the first touchdown for Starr and then the march and retreat began over again.

Once more B.ickett went over and once more the teams lined up for the kickoff. Painter received but soon lost the ball in the shadow of her own goal posts. Now the unexpected happened, Starr fumbled and Bishop of Painter snatching up the ball raced the full length of the field for a touchdown. But Starr could not be denied one more score and the game ended with Painter on the small end of a 18 to 6 score. The teams expect to engage in another battle in a few days.

Three new freshmen girls arrived here last week. They are Ruth Hall of North Bennington; Miriam Cutler of East Jaffrey, N. H.; Laura Roe of Peacham, Vt.

R. P. I. 12.— MIDD. 0.

Our Jinx Gives Us Another Whack. Better Luck Next Time.

Playing under the influence of the same jinx, and getting the same bad breaks as in the Vermont game, the varsity went down to defeat in the last quarter of the game with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute on Saturday, 12-0. The Blue and White team and R. P. I. team were about evenly matched in weight with a little in favor of the black and red, but for the first three-quarters the game was nip and tuck, although the ball was continually in the Middlebury territory. Then came the break. R. P. I. began their line smashing game, using Kinlock, their star back, to dodge through the holes. Our men, tired from the three-quarters of play and also tired from their 120-mile ride before the game, wilted while Capt. Kinlock rushed in a team of new men and when the smoke had cleared up two touchdowns had been tallied. The R. P. I. team delayed the game with 46 seconds to play by having their men take the count and in the interim signals were formulated, in this way the last touchdown was made, the officials unfair to the extreme allowed the delaying tactics. The unfairness of the officials was one of the disgusting features of the game; both men had vivid imaginations and were victims of hallucinations. The turning point of the game came in the third quarter with the score zero all. Triggs fell on a punt fumbled by himself, then, recovering it, ran eighty yards for a touchdown. Referee Draper used his vivid imagination, saw Triggs down with fifteen R. P. I. men on him and called the ball down on the 20 yard line disallowing the score. This with many more equal ridiculous decisions took much of the fight out of the blue and white,

The game opened with Condit kicking off for Middlebury. Gallagher ran back with the ball for ten yards before being tackled, by straight football carried the ball into the Midd territory where the ball was recovered on downs. After a few successful tries at the line, Condit punted. Now it was a see-saw game until time was called with the ball on the R. P. I. 45-yard line. At the resumption of play a kicking duel began in real earnest with Condit getting all the better of it. The same see-saw game continued and the half ended with the ball in midfield with the score nothing all.

Condit kicked off again at the beginning of the second half. Higbee carrying the ball back 20 yards they kicked a few minutes later to Kron on the 12 yard line. Triggs carried the ball around right end on a fake kick play for thirty yards, the ball was rapidly being carried into the home team's territory when they made a great resistance compelling Condit to punt. R. P. I. again began line smashing until Gallagher was tackled for a good loss by Jones and they were forced to punt. Play was then called for the end

Editors of the Middlebury Campus:

Dear Sirs:—Last year so much unfavorable criticism of the board at Hamlin Commons was heard, that I think it is just, now that things are changed, for someone to comment upon the improvement which has been effected this year.

It is easy for one to overlook this internal improvement of one of the college's most important institutions, because of the splendid exterior improvements that have been brought to pass. Everyone is delighted with the new sidewalks, the new faculty houses and the new Chemistry building; while the Heating Plant, Athletic Field and Gymnasium are of recent enough addition to increase the feeling of pride and growth which every Midd man or woman experiences.

It is because of this feeling that I wish to speak of the new Hamlin Commons. There is not a single improvement this year of which Midd has the right to feel prouder than of that which has been effected in the Commons.

The interior has been refinished in restful shades, new furniture has been purchased, better service secured, and last, but by no means least, the board has been very much improved. I trust these will all be permanent. To secure permanency of these improvements Hamlin Commons ought to be endowed!

I feel that I am voicing the sentiments of every man who has ever dined there, when I say that any alumnus or alumna who wishes to see old Midd prosper, will give an immense service in that direction by working for the endowment of one of its most important institutions, the gauge of Middlebury's prosperity—Hamlin Commons.

AN INTERESTED STUDENT.

A Note to Freshmen.

Some Freshmen seem to think that the wearing of an ordinary hat or cap with a green bow excuses them from wearing the pink button hat. 1917 don't be misled. If you have that little green hat tucked away in your trunk—out with it! You are not upper classmen yet.

Middlebury Smoker.

After supper Friday, October 3, practically all the men in college assembled in Hamlin Commons to join in a Smoker and arouse enthusiasm in the Rensselaer game next day.

Smokes and jokes passed gaily around while a self-appointed band murdered the most touching melodies.

Finally Mr. Wiley '13 called the meeting to order, and announced Dr. Lambert as the first speaker of the evening. Dr. Lambert congratulated the team on their coach, and the coach on his team. He remarked on the rise of enthusiasm here just as he had seen it grow at Dartmouth and ended by suggesting that Middlebury try to get a game with Dartmouth.

The real Middlebury College band played a selection after which Professor Morgan was given the floor. He spoke in behalf of "the second team," stating that he himself had played in a second team, and realized what a dreary sort of fun it was to be mauled and bumped about with no letter as a reward.

Captain "Hutch" asked for more recruits and concluded his speech directly.

Dr. Harrington emphasized the personal advantages of foot ball and described the widespread belief in the extreme danger of the game.

Manager Cluff's words were few and to the point. There weren't enough men out for practice to give the varsity a good tussle.

Dr. Thomas began by reciting a little classic—which doubtless all of the fellows can now repeat—and immediately followed it by the announcement that Dr. Barton Hepburn would speak here on Charter Day. He urged the attendance and enthusiasm of every man to help make Charter Day a real live anniversary.

At length the thing for which all were waiting, was reached. Dr. Thomas said he regretted that there had been any misunderstanding between the faculty and students in regard to rules 3 and 4, and explained the conditions under which these rules had been made. By rule 3 Chapman '15 and Condit '16, two strong players, would be debarred from the Rensselaer game the next day, owing to demerits received. Dr. Thomas offered to abrogate rule 3, so that one would incur only the usual demerits which absence from required exercises entails, but also asked that a student committee be appointed to confer with the administration committee to see if the present rules could not be improved. He suggested that the following men should serve on this committee: Vail '14, Triggs '14, Cronk '14, Jones '15, Haskins '15, Cole '15, Salisbury '16.

Dr. Thomas warned the men that he believed that stricter rules than the present ones would finally result, in which case he expected the men to accept and support them heartily. The applause was unanimous and vigorous, thus signifying the acceptance of the two changes.

The college band then struck up. And amid marching, singing and cheering the meeting broke up.

"Pick" Fisher Arrives.

Ray L. Fisher arrived in Middlebury today, October 6th, after his team, the Highlanders, had finished their season. He has been very successful this season and stands well in the ranks of American League pitchers. We are all glad to see him back among us, ready to hand us a good drilling in gymnastics and athletics.

Home Economics Meeting.

The Home Economics Club held its first meeting at Pearsons hall Wednesday evening. The following officers were eleeted: President, Charlotte Jenne; vice-president, Ruth Norton; secretary, Katherine Hobbs; treasurer, Ruth Kendall; chairman of executive committee, Mary Geran.

Plans are being made for the observance of Home Economics Day on December 2d.

A Budding History Shark.

A certain member of History 3, upon being questioned, outside class, as to the nature of a "sea dog," gave it out as his solemn opinion that it must be some species of walrus. Wouldn't that make SirFrancis Drake turn in his grave?

STUDENTS NOTES.

Frederick Pihlman has returned to College.

"Bob" Hill has suddenly been called to his home in Brooklyn by the serious illness of his father.

An informal musicale was held after dinner Sunday in the social room at Pearsons. The girls hope to do this every week to hear some good music that will furnish a contrast to the Saturday night ragtime.

Sixteen members of the Dramatic Club gave a reading of Pinero's "The Magistrate" last Tuesday evening. The next meeting will be held this Tuesday night in Pearsons Hall, and a new name for the club will be considered.

An out-door basket ball court is being put in order for the girls. It is south of the tennis courts. Practice is expected to start this week or next. The tennis tournament is being delayed somewhat by the rain.

The sophomore girls entertained the upper classes at an exceedingly funny vaudeville last Tuesday evening. The scene was the gymnasium at Pearson's hall; the actors were the members of the class of 1917. There were city brides, country milkmaids, monkeys, babies, and a few fascinating young men. Johnson and Jeffries had a knock down fight, and there was much fancy dancing and music. At the end the freshmen were allowed to uncover their eyes and to take off their little bells. They joined heartily in singing their class song and showed that they were good sports and "some class" as the saying goes.

The membership meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Thursday afternoon, October 2, in the Hemicycle. Miss Blakeman, the vice-president, and Miss Buck, the chairman of the finance committee, were the leaders. The music consisted of a piano solo by Miss Cecile Thomas, '16, and a vocal solo by Miss Buck. The recognition service for new members was used. This week Thursday the meeting will be on Silver Bay and will consist of various reports from the delegates.

Rhodes Scholarships.

On the 14th and 15th of October the written examinations for the Rhodes scholarships will be held at Northfield, Vt. Since the last meeting of the committee composed of President Guy Potter Benton of the university of Vermont, chairman, President John M. Thomas of Middlebury college, the Right Rev. A. C. A. Hall, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Vermont, and Hon. J. A. De Boer, president of the National Life Insurance company of Montpelier, President Charles H. Spooner of Norwich university has been added to the committee of selection. This year the examinations will be held under the supervision of Norwich university. There are now two Vermonters at Oxford, Elias Lyman, jr., of Burlington, a graduate of the class of 1911 in the University of Vermont, who has been two years at Oxford, and Wayne Bosworth of Bristol, who graduated from Middlebury in 1911. The successful candidate this year will go to Oxford in 1914 to succeed Mr. Lyman.

MIDD. DEFEATED BY U. V. M.

mont did not try their forward passes, they did not try our ends nor did they punt, for now came the old army game—safe and sure--they threw their heavy backs seconded by their much heavier line against our lighter defense. Midd yielded yard by yard until they reached our 30-yard line, then they changed their tactics then held and shot a forward pass over center. It was successful and five more yards they advanced. On the 20-yard line the blue and white garbed men did hold and backed dropped Whelan, the big captain. Shortly after the oval pig skin floated gently over the bar with one minute to play, and the game was won—won for Vermont, but lost to Midd. Shortly after the whistle blew taps with Midd in the rear 10--7. The blue and white team played a great game for the first of the year, going up against a much heavier team, with very little scrimmage for preparation. The game showed the good points and invariably the weak ones. The line is a stone wall on the defense, but on the offense they are sadly perforated, the back field is fast, but the interference is lacking, and without interference in the back field, and without help from the line, our offense is very weak. Time on our offenses is now our watchword and watch our progress for the best season ever.

Meeting of Men of College.

On October 2d the men of the College were detained in chapel for a few moments and given a description of the U. V. M. game of the day before. As Manager Cluff pointed out, the team deserves great praise for the work which they did against the Vermont team. It was another of those "barely win" games for U. V. M. and an example of our playing of which we may be justly proud. "Chub" Cronk had the misfortune to sprain his ankle and will be out for some time. More recruits were called for and showed up well that afternoon and the next in preparing the team for even better work in the future.

of the third quarter. Condit immediately punted for Midd and now came the rush of the home team's sub list and the weakening of the blue and white. Line smashes by Kinlock, Gallagher, and Higbee helped by a splendid forward pass to Kinlock carried the ball over with Schutz missing the goal by inches—that is—by many inches. Condit received the kick off from Gallagher, and after a try at end he kicked to Higbee. Now came the time delaying game by R. P. I. that should have been penalized, and just twenty seconds before time was called Kinlock scored again through the left side of the line where the punt out was lost. The game ended with the ball on the Midd 40-yard line in our possession. Jones played well for Middlebury while Triggs made several long runs. "Doc" Johnson, formerly of Midd, led and largely represented our cheering section.

Cutting Their Eye Teeth.

The following note was picked up in the library by one of the Board and shows that the essence of politics is being imbibed by the Knights of the Peppermint Drop:

"A note is being circulated recommending Harold S. Searle as the best man for the Presidency of the Freshman Class. 'Give him your vote.'"

Glee Club Rehearsal.

The Glee club held its first rehearsal Tuesday, September 30, in the Music hall. The attendance was the largest on record. This speaks well for Glee club prospects. With an abundance of material from which to choose Middlebury will, without a doubt, send out a club this year which will be fully in keeping with the other improvements of the year.

"Keeping in Front"

You fellows know what that means! We've been very successful in this regard with Fatima Cigarettes. By the way, these cigarettes were first sold in the college towns—and you agreed with us that they were good.

Then we put out for the big race, to make Fatimas of nation-wide reputation, and today more are sold than any other cigarette in this country.

No purer, or more carefully chosen tobacco grows than that in Fatimas. We purposely put them in a plain inexpensive wrapper—in this way we can afford quality tobacco, and twenty of the smokes for 15 cents.

Now your college crew is of utmost importance to you—so is a good cigarette, and it's your aim in life to keep Fatimas in the lead—right up to their good quality—right up to where you first found them, and will always find them.

Success fellows! You started this cigarette on its successful career—and you pull a strong oar all over this country.
